

SCHOOL HOUSE CLASS FOR MEGA BOW TUCKS BAG

Pattern Name – Mega Bow Tucks by Penny Sturgis – Quilts Illustrated

In addition to pattern and fabric, hardware is needed for the bag. I did some research and have a couple options for you.

1. I just found this one on Etsy with ANotion2Sew. If you purchase the pattern (regular price $9.75) and the hardware (regular price $21.75) as a bundled purchase, you can get both for $24.75. That would be a 31% discount on the hardware. Hardware includes: Flip Lock for front of bag; 4 square rings for to attach straps to bag; side closure which includes a “D” ring and Swivel hook – you need one for each side; I also put little feet on the bottom of my bag to keep it from getting dirty, however, these are not included with the hardware kit.

You are welcome to purchase your own hardware, or I can purchase it for you and you can pay me when we both get to Texas. If you would like for me to purchase, I need to know your color choice - please make sure that all items are available in your color choice (based on above information). I will do my best to get the best possible discount for you which will most likely be 20% when JoAnn’s offers a 20% on your total purchase or I catch a sale on all items.

You also need Single Sided Fusible Foam made by Pellon – item number FF78F1 – article# 1489678 which is 20" wide and you need 1 $\frac{3}{4}$ yards and sells for \$10.99/yd. I found this at my JoAnn's today (I looked earlier in the spring and they did not have it at the store where I shop and they tried to tell me that they were no longer carrying it). I would suggest purchasing it sooner than later and hopefully with a coupon.
